A time to seek, and a time to lose

New children found, an old child left for good

Earlier this year, during our prayer meetings, we felt a burden in our hearts to seek out children that were destined to join our large family. We prayed for wisdom and direction. Wisdom in our choices, direction leading to the children meant for Care Corner.

Little did we know that so many relatives and single parents would be applying in the following months. Eventually, out of over 20 applications and inquiries, we accepted 10 new kids from the poorest and neediest of backgrounds.

As we see the new children adjusting to Care Corner, we are also saddened to see Meemee leaves. After three years, she has returned to live with her mother after her mother remarried and settled down. Meemee is still doing well in school and we continue to keep in touch with her.

INTRODUCING SOME OF THE NEW KIDS

Tii and His Grandmother

Given up by his mother after his father left, Tii (8) was raised entirely by his grandmother since birth. Unable to care and send him to school, Tii's grandmother reached out to Care Corner for help and we took him in in April 2017.

Yeam, His Father and Older Brother

Coming from one of the poorest families in his village, Yeam's (12) mother past away last year. His father (60) and his mentally and vocally impaired elder brother (30) were both unable to work and provide for Yeam. With no proper education and living on chili and rice, Yeam came to us in May 2017.
