A time to kill, and a time to heal

In our weakness, he will give us strength.

On a clear, blue day, in March, while Pim(16) was rising from a bench, her leg suddenly collapsed under her.

Months went by with multiple x-rays, doctors and prayers, before a clear diagnosis was given. Pim has TB in her right femoral bone. It is a rare occurrence where the bacteria attacks the bone causing osteonecrosis, “bone-death” and eventual decay. She is currently on TB medication for one year. After which, further examinations can be made to see if surgery is possible. Until then, Pim is dependent on a walker and pain killers.

An average person might be devastated by the news that she may never walk again, but Pim’s mental and emotional strength is a testament to God’s ever-providing strength. She has taken this one year break from school, in stride. With plenty of time to kill, she has offered her services to iron the little kids’ school uniforms. She has also shown dexterity in handicrafts and lend her typing skills in the office.

Pim was born with HIV and is hearing impaired. She came to us at 4 years old.

Pim was hospitalized for 2 weeks while doctors tried to diagnose her condition.

Pim ironing the clothes for our 6-9 year olds.
